

LICENSE/USE AGREEMENT FOR
FAULT-DATA FILES DERIVED FROM CDMG FAULT POINTS

The undersigned, by signing this agreement, hereby represents his authority to represent his/her company: _____
_____. Thomas F. Blake and the Department of Conservation rely on this representation that the undersigned in fact does have the authority to represent that company.

The sample fault data provided with software created by Thomas F. Blake, Computer Services and Software, contains information that was derived all or in part from the digital data file of the California Department of Conservation, Division of Mines and Geology and is protected by the United States Copyright Law. It cannot be provided to any other parties. Parties requesting the data should contact the California Department of Conservation, Division of Mines and Geology.

The earthquake source information was digitized from the Division of Mines and Geology's Fault Activity Map of California and Adjacent Areas by Charles Jennings, published in 1994. The map was compiled and published at a scale of 1:750,000. Source point locations are uncertain by up to one kilometer. The information is not appropriate for site-specific fault location evaluations. It was digitized recently and has not yet been proofed for accuracy.

The sample fault data file provided with software created by Thomas F. Blake, Computer Services & Software was derived in part from the DOC/DMG Fault Points of California. The Fault Points of California are provided "as is" without express or implied warranty including, but not limited to, the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. In no event will DOC/DMG, Thomas F. Blake, or any other contributor be liable to _____, or any other party for direct, incidental, or consequential damages, including but not limited to time, money, or good will, arising from the use, distribution, operation, or modification of the data, even if DOC/DMG or Thomas F. Blake have been advised of the possibility of such damage. In no event, should any party be liable to the other for indirect, special, or consequential damages or claims from any source arising from this agreement.

The undersigned hereby certifies that he/her and his/her company, _____, agree to the terms stipulated herein.

Name

Date

Title

Company Name